Music For Education

When East Bay Musicians perform for a school in Cameroon.
• First off, we started our project by talking to the school’s Parents representatives of the school to see what was the priorities of the necessities in the school.
• We then talked to the Director of the Elementary School and the Director of the preschool for their agreements.

• After talking about it, we decided that
  1) we needed to fix the preschool’s roof right away
  2) We needed to install dry toilets for the preschoolers
The roof had holes and so it rained in the classroom.

- The wood was in extremely bad shape and everything was at a risk of collapsing at any given point.
We asked people for quotes on everything we wanted to do and then checked what we wanted to prioritize with the money that we collected.

It took about a week to figure everything out with the contractor. The roof was finished in 3 days.

The construction of the toilets was a parent volunteer work.
The new roof is at no risk of collapsing because the old wood is repaired and has been reinforced with brand new materials.
After we had all the quotes in, we decided to have a day where all the kids who go to the school could come and have a game day.

There, we gave them books, pens, pencils, paper, color pencils, paint, snacks, and new fun playground games.

This was the team that helped make the day happen
